

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASEContact: KAI Marketing.Advertising.Consulting*Erica Mines*erica@kaiconsults.com*(847) 525-5747*February 20, 2009

Your southeast leader in commercial chemical solutions

Chemical Distribution Goes Green*ADCO Services, Inc. Leads Industry with Debut of Eco-Friendly Products*

Mableton, GA - When one thinks of “going green” chemical distribution is not usually the next thing that comes to mind, but for one company in Georgia the two ideas go hand in hand. ADCO Services, Inc. became a southeast leader as a chemical distributor based on the personal relationships they have built with customers and great service they are known to provide. However, ADCO Services believes in the needs of the community as well. To increase awareness and reduce confusion about green products, the owners have dedicated themselves to educating consumers.

“Based on our values of honesty and integrity, we believe our customers deserve earth friendly and effective products. Facts about ‘green’ will outweigh marketing double-talk to deliver quality products at a fair price,” says ADCO co-founder Alpa Mehta. Because ADCO provides a large range of cleaning, chemical and janitorial products to many different types of businesses, the owners realized that the impact on the overall industry and environment would be widespread. With that in mind, they set to work on adding environmentally friendly items to their product line, set up a new website and began a marketing campaign to bring their fresh idea to the masses.

Their new range of premium eco-friendly commercial products includes kitchen, housekeeping, carpet care, floor care and laundry products. ADCO Services, Inc. is paving the way to the next generation of “going green” by providing products for both the traditional retail market and business-to-business consumers.

ADCO Services, Inc. is the premier southeastern leader and provider of cleaning, chemical and janitorial products for a variety of business sectors including hospitality, daycare, carpet care, industrial, government and food processing. Founded by Alpa Mehta and Dan Ryan in 2004, ADCO Services, Inc. is proudly based in Mableton, Georgia where they serve clients nationwide. For more information please contact Erica Mines at (847) 525-5747.

###